REPORT FROM

PRESIDENT SYLVIA M. BURWELL AND CHIEF FINANCIAL OFFICER BRONTÉ BURLEIGH-JONES

The FYs23–24 budget aims to expand American University’s investment in our people.

We are pleased to announce that the AU Board of Trustees approved an operating budget for fiscal years 2023 and 2024 totaling $1.74 billion over two years. This budget is focused on our people and balances the following important factors:

- Enhanced compensation strategies and marked increases in our financial aid offerings,
- Funding strategies linked with years 4 and 5 of the strategic imperatives outlined in our Changemakers for a Changing World plan, and priorities such as AU’s Plan for Inclusive Excellence,
- Significant progress on academic programs, student thriving, operational excellence, the university’s reputation, and revenue growth and diversifications,
- Reimagined campus operations based on the lessons learned from the pandemic and external environmental factors.

The approved budget was developed within the context of the upheaval of the past two years, including the $100 million in lost revenue due to COVID-19, the 10 percent tuition discount in 2021, and a significantly smaller Class of 2024 that will continue to be a factor in our revenue and expense framework throughout that class’s time at AU. Importantly, the budget builds on actions we took last year to support our community, such as restoring the merit compensation pool at 2.5 percent in fall 2021 and avoiding layoffs in 2020 and 2021 while still dealing with the impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic.

The FYs23–24 budget aims to expand American University’s investment in our people. Over the next two years, we’re investing an additional $32 million in undergraduate, graduate, and Washington College of Law financial aid. In addition, we’re investing a total of $76 million over two years toward compensation for faculty and staff as well as permanent funding for critically needed positions. Compensation for faculty and staff represents 45% of our total budget expenditures. This investment is part of a focused, multiyear effort on salary equity and retention. It represents part of the largest salary increase pool in more than 15 years and the largest increase in the entire budget.

In 2022, we separated the tuition and fee increase proposals at the AU Board of Trustees’ February meetings and a balanced two-year budget proposal at its April meetings. The board approved a 5 percent tuition increase for undergraduate, a 3 percent increase for graduate, and 3.5 percent for law for FYs23–24; a residence halls fee increase of 3 percent in FY23 and 4.5 percent in FY24; and a meal plan fee increase of 5 percent for both years. Overall, these changes represent a 4.7 percent increase for undergraduate students in FY23 and 4.9 percent increase in FY24.

To accomplish the fourth and fifth years of strategic imperatives articulated in our Changemakers plan, funding has been earmarked in the FYs23–24 budget for priorities such as student thriving—including academic advising, counseling and support, wellness, and mental health; a financial aid strategy to improve student retention and graduation; student wage increases in compliance with the DC minimum wage requirement; enhancements towards student learning at all levels; salaries, benefits, and workforce modality to recruit and retain faculty and staff; faculty research initiatives; residence hall updates; campus technology portfolio and infrastructure updates; inclusive excellence initiatives; athletics programs and student clubs; and the Change Can't Wait campaign.

In our ongoing commitment to transparency, we offered numerous open forums during the budget development cycle for our students, faculty, and staff to solicit community feedback on our budget priorities and share the results of the budget process. We will continue to prioritize a transparent and collaborative process, which we believe will help us to successfully deliver our strategic imperatives and create shared responsibility. Our budget processes must reflect our institution's values, goals, and objectives.

Moving forward, as part of our wider engagement with the AU community, the University Budget Committee will be a standing committee and continue its work year-round with the goal of making the budget a more powerful tool to achieve AU's mission.

This report provides an overview of the major elements of the budget for fiscal years 2023 and 2024 and includes the following:

- Fiscal years 2023 and 2024 budget highlights
- Revenue and expense budget schedules with supporting graphic presentations
- Tuition, residence hall, and meal plan rates for FY23 and FY24
- Strategic Plan investments
- Divisional budgets for FY23 and FY24
- Historical data on AU's enrollment, undergraduate tuition discount rate, operating budget, and endowment funds

We are grateful to all who participated in this year's budget process, including the University Budget Committee, the Finance and Investment Committee of the AU Board of Trustees, and the AU community.

Sylvia M. Burwell

Bronté Burleigh-Jones

We will continue to prioritize a transparent and collaborative process, which we believe will help us to successfully deliver our strategic imperatives and create shared responsibility.
