

RESIDENTIAL LIVING AGREEMENT

Building: _____

Room: _____

Please take time to discuss each of the following subjects that are common causes for roommate disputes. Discuss what each person wants and how to come to an agreement that will be acceptable to all of you, including solutions. On the second page is a space for you to define any other potential problems and your agreement on them. When you are done, sign it, then turn both sheets in to your RA. The questions below serve as guides to get you started, but are not exhaustive.

on the issue of	<h2>NOISE</h2> When is noise permissible? Hair dryers, music, talking, etc.?	Define what you mean by "noise" on the issue of	<h2>STUDYING</h2> Music or no music? Lights? Can I have study groups in my room? Will anything change with exams? on the issue of	<h2>GUESTS</h2> When can people of different genders be in the room? How long can guests be over? How far in advance do I need to tell my roommate? on the issue of	<h2>CLEANLINESS</h2> Is there a difference between being neat or tidy and being clean?	Define what you mean by "clean" on the issue of	<h2>SHARING PROPERTY</h2> What can be shared? Under what circumstances? Do any differences exist between sharing clothes, food, computers, electronics, etc.? on the issue of	<h2>PERSONAL SPACE</h2> When would you like to be alone in the room? What does privacy look like? What are your thoughts on physical intimacy in room? on the Issue of	COMMUNICATION How will you address concerns when they arise? How do you handle conflict?
